GETTING STARTED

By Al Stillely
Editor

Proclaiming the value of smart investments and smart partnerships, Greenwood Mayor Mark Myers opened a groundbreaking ceremony that will make the redevelopment of "The Madison" a reality.

"The Madison" is the new name for an $83 million multi-purpose development on 19 acres of land where the old Greenwood Middle School was located. The redevelopment project that has been on the drawing board since 2013 and includes the Greenwood Fieldhouse to be opened in early 2022 and several more buildings. The Madison features a combination of residential units (condominiums, townhouses and apartments), 18,000 square feet of commercial, retail, restaurant, and entertainment space, and a 356 car capacity parking garage.

"We are taking a major step toward building the Greenwood of tomorrow," Myers proclaimed.

The public-private partnership that Myers praised consists of $15 million in street and site improvements plus the parking garage and $68 million in private investment.

The area is south of the Greenwood Public Library and forms a link with Old Town Greenwood, amphitheater, nearby splash pad, the new city park, spacious Craig Park to the east, and the reimagined Madison Avenue corridor.

Myers also praised business owners in Old Town Greenwood along Main Street and Madison Avenue.

"This project and the Greenwood Fieldhouse are important milestones in a years-long effort to revitalize Old Town," Myers emphasized. "They (business owners) believe in the message we have here for Greenwood and they want to be a part of it."

Groundbreaking speakers also included Great Lakes Capital managing director Clay Scheetz, Greenwood City Council member Ezra Hill and Greenwood Redevelopment Commission president David Hopper.

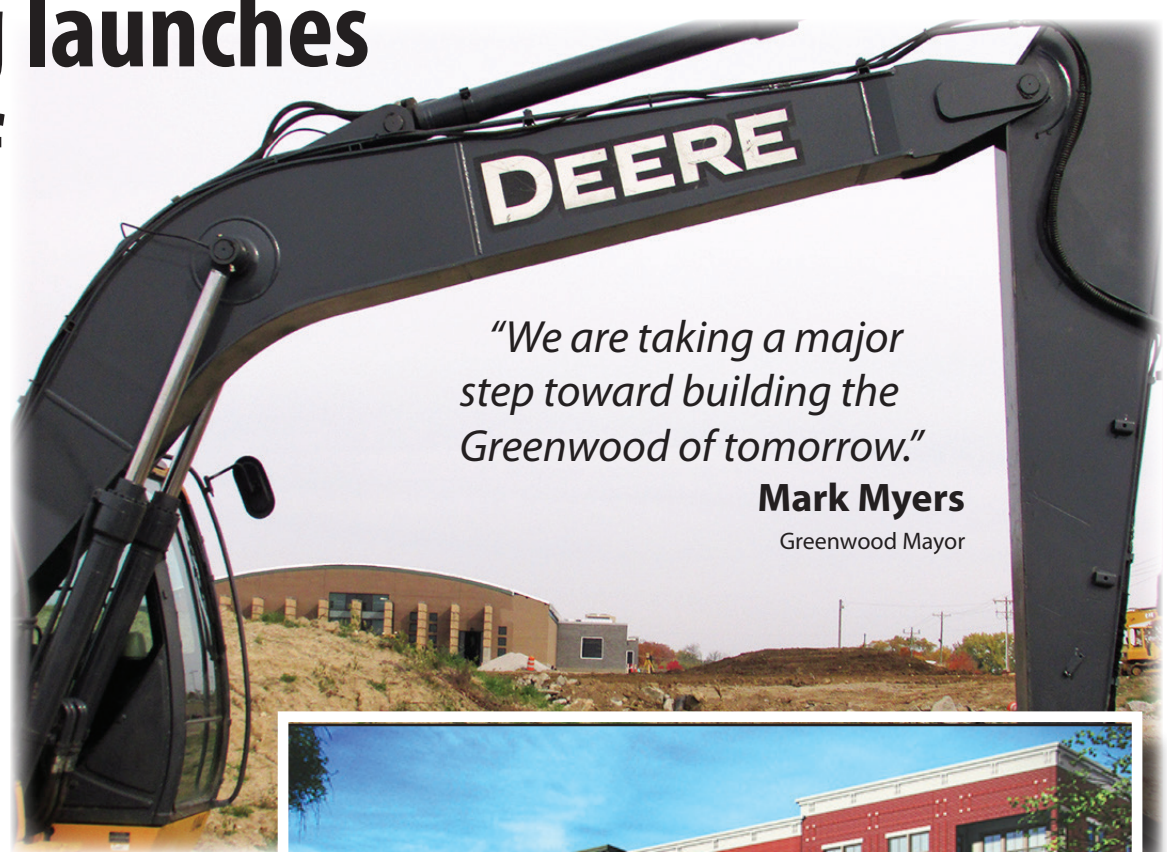

The City of Greenwood also formally closed on an agreement between CRG Residential and Great Lakes Capital and also bonds to fund the project.

Hill emphasized that The Madison brings life back into Greenwood because of the project's revitalization of Old Town, improved amenities, its link to trails and parks, its density, and even more opportunities for development.

Scheetz, the son of a Greenwood business owner, said, "Following the city's strong economic development activity and growth through the years, we are confident in our decision to invest in Greenwood."

The updated plans also call for two additional buildings along Surina Way potentially for condos.

Scheetz also emphasized that The Madison is "a community within a community" that provides residents with a place to live, work, and play.

"We are taking a major step toward building the Greenwood of tomorrow."

Mark Myers
Greenwood Mayor

The project, according to Hopper, is anticipated to add an additional one million dollars in tax revenue for the city without increasing taxes for current city residents.

No estimate was provided on the completion of The Madison.

The property is bordered by Madison Avenue, Smith Valley Road, Meridian Street, and Surina Way.

Crowd packs BG City Hall for Veterans Day observance

By Al Stillely
Editor

A standing-room crowd of young and older patriots honored our nation's veterans Thursday during the annual observance at Beech Grove City Hall.

The Veterans Day event on the Southside was observed with hosting organizations City of Beech Grove and the Samuel Bryan Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR). The local DAR chapter also led a special observance of the 100th anniversary of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Nearly 100 patrons, including several youngsters, attended the one-hour ceremony held inside City Hall due to inclement weather.

"We congregate today as free people," Beech Grove Mayor Dennis Buckley stated in his welcoming remarks.

Sen. Todd Young (R-Ind.) reminded patrons to hold onto "our precious freedoms" to honor veterans who made the ultimate sacrifice in defense of America's freedoms and democracy. He also posed for photos afterward with members of the Beech Grove High School Junior ROTC who served as greeters as patrons entered the council room on the second floor of City Hall.

Participating organizations included American Legion Post 276, American Legion Auxiliary Post 276, Beech Grove Fire Department, and Beech Grove Police Department.

The annual event also honored 20 veterans from Beech Grove who gave their lives in military service seven in World War II, five in the Civil War, five in the Vietnam War, two in the Korean War, and one in the War of 1812.

Beech Grove resident Steve Nontell read In Flanders Fields, the patriotic poem from World War I, Doug Hardwick played Amazing Grace on bagpipes, and all guests stood and sang the National Anthem and God Bless America.

Members of the DAR chapter presented a moving program in honor of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier that included the ringing of the bell 21 times, presentation of 21 white roses, a two-minute "great silence" in recognition of the establishment of the tomb on the 11th hour, 11th day, and 11th month in 1921, and Taps.

Following the observance at City Hall, a reception was held at American Legion Post 276 in Beech Grove.

Four members of the Samuel Bryan Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) join the nearly 100 patrons in singing the National Anthem. The DAR members are, from right, are chapter registrar Kimberly Shepherd, Paula Kaster, chapter regent Patty Moye, and Suzanne Smock.

Samuel Bryan Chapter (DAR) registrar Kimberly Shepherd rings bell 21 times in special ceremony that honors the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier on its 100th anniversary observance.

Retired U.S. Marine Doug Hartwick enters the council room in Beech Grove City Hall while playing Amazing Grace on bagpipes to commemorate Veterans Day.

AEW WRESTLERS CRASHED THE TOY DROP THURSDAY

(SUBMITTED PHOTOS)

When you step into the Toy Drop, a vintage toy store, located at 6025 Madison Ave., Suite E, you're wowed every single time. New items come and go daily.

While browsing the store, you get to be a kid again by seeing toys you and your siblings had, toys you didn't have, but played with them at your cousin's or best friend's houses. I've even reminisced about some I remember playing with while attending vacation bible school in the 70s.

Owners Kim and Ivan Gratz, and general manager Chris Smith provide a top-notch vintage store and are always happy to greet you at the front door.

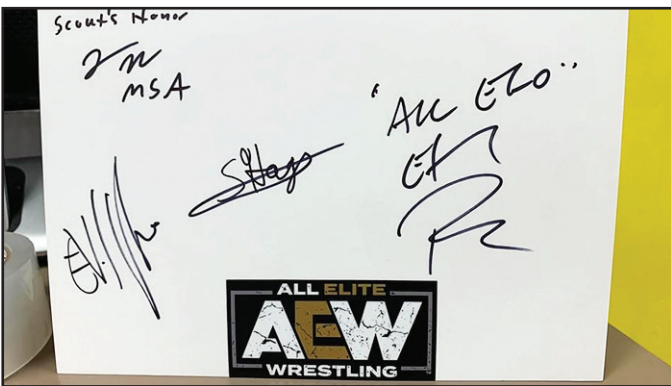

After seeing Chris' Facebook post on Thursday, I just had to share this cool story that WOWED them last week.

Are you ready for this? A couple of AEW wrestlers dropped in, bought toys and did a live social media video while in Indianapolis. "How cool is that?" said Smith. He also shared, "They average over 30,000 viewers on their vlog channel."

The group was in town for the AEW Dynamite Event at the State Fairgrounds on Wednesday. AEW is an upcoming professional wrestling program gaining popularity rather quickly and can be watched on TNT most Wednesdays and Fridays.

Smith travels all over the country going to toy trade shows and events, but this time the fun came to him.

"Wrestling figurines are one of our top sellers for the young and old, so when you turn and see them "live" in your store, it was pretty awesome," said Smith.

The wrestlers do a professional toy collecting visit on their YouTube channel when they travel on the AEW wrestling circuit from city to city called a Vlog. They are also collectors and are always looking. They leave behind an autographed poster of proof they were there.

EDITOR RECEIVES AWARD

The Mary Bryan Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) recently honored The Southsider Voice editor Al Stilley with a certificate of recognition for promotion in print media. Articles and photos published in the weekly newspaper provide readers of the chapter's activities on the Southside. DAR members are dedicated to historical preservation, promotion of education, and encouragement of patriotism. Members are direct lineal descendants of the Revolutionary War period in U.S. history. RONCALLI UNVEILS NEW MASCOT

Personal Recollections By Fred Shonk

KATIE GEARLDS - A WINNER

I have been very fortunate to have met and become friends with people who are very much involved with the game of basketball. I had a part-time position as a charter bus driver for several years, providing transportation for several NBA teams during their visits to Indianapolis when they were playing against the Indiana Pacers.

Shaquille O'Neal, Charles Barkley and Michael Jordan were just a few that I met and enjoyed having fun with while they were here for a game. I'm also friends with Louie Dampier.

A few weeks ago, it occurred to me that I know and for the very first time have a friend that is a head coach of a basketball team that is in the Big 10 Conference. A big smile came over me as I thought that many folks on the Southside and especially Beech Grove can make that exact same statement.

I have known Katie Gearlds, first-year head coach of Purdue University women's basketball team, from the time she attended Beech Grove High School. She was named Indiana's Miss basketball in 2003 after leading the Hornets to the 3A state championship.

She had a very special four years at Purdue University. She compiled almost a 15-point scoring average over her four years at Purdue. She was named The Big 10 Tournament most outstanding player in 2007 after Purdue won the Big 10 championship game over Ohio State.

Katie played three seasons in the WNBA with the Seattle Storm and later played professional basketball in Spain, Greece, Slovakia and Portugal and coached overseas.

She was named head coach of the women's basketball team at Marian University in 2013. The Knights won back-to-back NAIA Division 2 national championships in 2016 and 2017. I remember a conversation with Marian University athletic director Steve Downing that Katie's tenure with the Knights was just a step in her coaching career. She had his support in her move to Purdue.

It always was fun to see her coach at Marian and she also recruited some players from the Southside.

About 10 years ago, I spoke with Katie about a youth basketball camp that she supervised at Beech Grove. The video interview is still available on line (Katie Gearlds - Beech Grove Youth Camp - You Tube).

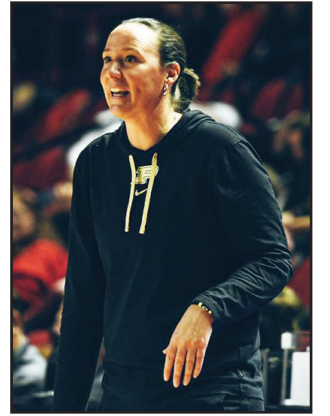

During the years that I was driving a school bus in Beech Grove, I would quite often see Katie in her bright yellow Mustang driving around town. We would always smile and wave at each other.

Purdue won its first two basketball games under Katie's coaching. They defeated Findley 89-64 in an exhibition game. Then they won their first regular season contest on the road in E.A. Diddle Arena at Western Kentucky University, 79-69, in a game I'm sure that editor Al Stilley (a W.K.U. graduate) had mixed feelings.

Senior Cassidy Hardin, a former Center Grove High School player, scored six 3-point baskets during the Findley exhibition, thanks to Katie's urging to shoot more. W.K.U. had several young players, so I'm thinking that it was a learn-and-adjust game for Katie and her Boilermakers who enjoyed a big 17-point lead in the fourth quarter and never trailed the Hilltoppers.

I'm looking forward to attending some Boilermakers women's games in Mackey Arena this season. It's always great for Katie's family and friends from Beech Grove to cheer for her and now, the Boilermakers.

Hey Katie..... have fun....!!

PRAYER

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED MOTHER (Never known to fail). O most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful is the splendor of Heaven, blessed Mother of the Son of God, immaculate virgin, assist me in this necessity. O star of the sea help me, and show herein you are my Mother. O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech thee from the bottom of my heart. Succor me in this necessity, there are none that can withstand your power. O show me herein you are Mother O Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have resource to thee (3 times). O Holy Mary I place this cause in your hands (3 times). Thank you for your mercy to me and mine. Amen. This prayer must be said for 3 days and after 3 days your request will be granted and the prayer must be published. Thank you. K.S.

Saints, Trojans continue run through playoffs; Defending 4A champion Roncalli falls on road

Undeclared and ranked No. 1, Lutheran's Saints celebrate winning their sixth Class A regional championship in eight years after defeating Parke Heritage Friday night in Rockville. The Saints face Tri Titans at Lutheran in a semistate game Friday with the winner advancing to the Class A state championship game.

And now there are only two. Defending 6A state champion Center Grove found the going against host Lawrence North extremely tough, Lutheran rolled past Parke Heritage with four second-half touchdowns, and Roncalli fell to inspired Mt. Vernon that ended the Royals winning streak at 24.

With only one win to go before reaching the state finals in Lucas Oil Stadium, Center Grove (12-0) returns home against MIC rival Ben Davis (7-5) for a third straight Trojans-Giants semistate matchup, and Tri (11-2) from east central Indiana visits Lutheran (13-0), a team that yearns for a state championship duel.

Against Parke Heritage, Lutheran led only 14-6 before making patented halftime adjustments and rolling to a 42-6 regional championship, the Saints sixth in eight years. Lutheran exploded in the second half as senior Montasi Clay, one of the most underrated quarterbacks in the state, scored touchdowns on runs of 16 and 46 yards. Running back Joe Davis scored on a 25-yard run in the fourth quarter. Clay capped the Saints scoring with a 10-yard pass to Javen Holsey.

Coached by veteran Dave Pasch, Lutheran's ground attack pounded the Wolves' defense. Clay carried the ball 23 times for a massive 252 yards and senior running back Joe Davis rushed 21 times for 157 yards and one touchdown. The Saints amassed 420 yards on the ground.

Clay threw only seven times and connected six times for 48 yards and one TD.

The Saints defense stopped Parke Heritage's ground game for only 60 yards and allowed only 125 yards passing and one TD.

Lutheran players dedicated the regional championship game to the legacy of the late Ray Schultz, the Indiana Football Hall of Fame Coach, who founded the Saints football program after a legendary coaching career at Emmerich Manual High School.

At Lawrence North, Center Grove faced a more rugged No. 9-ranked Lawrence North team than the one they defeated 43-19 on Oct. 8. The stakes were far different Friday with a regional championship up for grabs.

The visiting Trojans needed a fourth-quarter 15-play, 96-yard scoring drive to claim their 16th regional championship and extend their winning streak to 26 games. The Trojans put up their final points on a three-yard run by defensive end/running back Caden Curry.

The final scoring drive was kept alive by a remarkable third-and-34 play for a 28-yard pickup on a pass from quarterback Tayven Jackson to Eli Hohl. On the crucial fourth-down play, Jackson connected with Brandon Wheat for a first down.

Lawrence North challenged the unbeaten Trojans throughout. CG led only 22-13 at halftime. The host Wildcats had outgained the Trojans on the ground in the first half and scored the first TD of the game. LN closed to 22-19 in the third quarter on an 11-yard score.

After the Trojans' final TD of the game, LN was unable to advance thanks to a quarterback sack by the Trojans with two and one-half minutes left.

At Mt. Vernon, the host Marauders had revenge on their mind when Roncalli ran onto the field. The Royals (then Rebels) defeated Mt. Vernon 35-14 on their march to the state championship last year.

Trailing 27-14, Roncalli quarterback Aidan Leffler scored on a three-yard run with two and one-half minutes left. The Royals ensuing sideside kick-off was recovered by the Marauders who closed the upset with the ball in their possession.

Roncalli linebacker Ty Garrett got the Royals off to a good start defensively by recovering a faulty pitchback in the first quarter that eventually led to Luke Hansen's TD from inside the five-yard line for a 7-0 lead. Hansen's 41-yard run helped set up the score.

The unfazed Marauders put up 17 unanswered points before Hansen closed the first-half scoring on a 13-yard run to close to 17-14.

Hansen wound up with 112 yards rushing on 18 carries, and Leffler wound up with 87 yards also on 18 carries. Roncalli's defense came up with two interceptions.

Mt. Vernon gained 149 yards passing compared to Roncalli's 149 yards to 94 yards on a cold blustery night with snow flurries in the second half.

The Royals are now 25-2 under coach John Rodenberg as the Class of 2022 leaves a four-year record of 35-15. This year's team had 30 seniors, including a veteran of offensive line.

Lutheran senior quarterback Montasi Clay (No. 2) ran for a massive 252 yards Friday against Parke Heritage. Clay scored four touchdowns and threw a TD pass, too.

Lutheran's defense manhandled host Parke Heritage for most of the Class A regional title game Friday. Saints senior Jake Pasch (No. 7) and junior Kam Patterson squeeze a Wolves runner between them.

(SOUTHSIDER VOICE PHOTOS BY GENTRY APPELGET)

Center Grove defensive end Caden Curry (No. 91) appears to be blocked in the back while circling into Lawrence North backfield. A Mr. Indiana Football candidate, Curry led the Trojans with seven tackles and also had two of the team's five quarterback sacks Friday.

A Trojan teammate jumps on Jackson Griffin's back in celebration of Griffin's return of a blocked punt for a touchdown Friday at Lawrence North.

Center Grove's defense came up with key stops against determined Lawrence North in a 6A regional championship game Friday.

Roncalli Nation followed the Royals to Fortville where Roncalli collided against host Mt. Vernon in a 4A regional championship game Friday night. The Royals came close to the Marauders but fell, 27-21.
