Two CG seniors close with state wrestling titles; PM's Billerman becomes runner-up

By Steve Page
Correspondent

Two-for-two and one place better than last year. Center Grove seniors Hayden Watson and Drake Buchanan, runners-up in their respective weight classes in 2021, took that last giant step Saturday, winning championships in the IHSAA Wrestling State Finals at Gainbridge Fieldhouse.

Watson pinned East Central junior Rider Searcy in 2:31 to win the 145-pound championship, and Buchanan rode out a 4-1 win over Crown Point junior Orlando Cruz to take the 182-pound title.

Watson enjoyed his title, but said his biggest match came earlier in an all-Southside semifinal match. He and fellow senior Matthew Koontz of Perry Meridian found themselves in the upper bracket. They advanced to the semi round when Watson posted an 11-3 decision to advance. That sent Koontz (41-2) to the bout for third place, where he fell 4-3 to Chesterton junior Aidan Torres.

"That should have been the finals," Watson (43-1) said of his match with Koontz. "He was No. 1; I was No. 2. We should have been in the finals. That was something we both waited a long time for. We've been friends for a long time." Watson, headed for The Citadel, wasted no time in the finale, getting a two-point takedown just 10 seconds after the start.

"It was great!" he said of the championship. "The faster I can score, the more confidence I get. It's all about putting points on the board."

Buchanan, with chants of "Drake! Drake!" spent much of the title tilt wrestling from the top.

"I knew if I was going to win," he said, "I had to get the ride-out on top." Buchanan (43-1) will next attend the Air Force Academy.

Billerman (35-5) reached the finals with three big wins before falling 9-5 to Warren Central senior Kyrell Leavell in the title match.

"He came out fast," Billerman said of Leavell, whom he defeated to win the Perry

By Elizabeth Choi
Director of Communications

Perry Township Schools is receiving national attention for going above and beyond in the classroom! The National Institute for Excellence in Teaching (NIET) named Southport 6th Grade Academy a finalist for its 2022 Founder's Award. The Academy is just one of five schools around the nation chosen by NIET to be a finalist. Each school will also receive $10,000 and will be in the running for the $50,000 grand prize!

NIET partners with schools around the country to develop teacher leadership and support effective instructional strategies and in turn, address student needs. In the 2021-2022 school year, Perry Schools committed to staying open despite a number of challenges. Offering in-person learning improves academic success.

"We are proud to partner with Southport 6th Grade Academy and Perry Township Schools, where excellent instruction is happening in every class, every day," said NIET Co-President and Chief Operating Officer Dr. Josh Barnett.

Perhaps one measurement of that excellence is students like Kelvin.

"Math that gets me super excited, how it can be complicated and there's answers to these sorts of problems that inspire me," said student Kelvin.

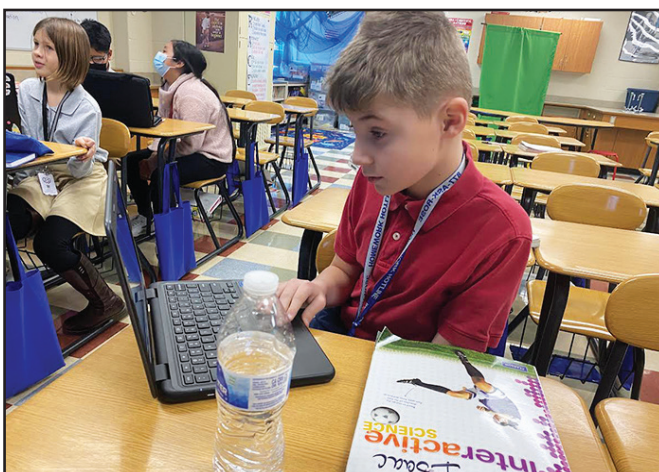

Math? Exciting? Inspire? Have those words ever been used in the same sentence before now? No matter how rare, it's an honor for Kelvin's math teacher, Jordyn Knudsen.

"What makes us unique is, we focus on that student work and we try to make those changes for our kids and our classrooms. I know Southport Academy does a great job of that," said Knudsen.

Perry Township Schools is doing such a great job that this is the second consecutive year the district has been a finalist. Last year, Douglas MacArthur Elementary School took home the grand prize. Knudsen has her fingers crossed Perry can do it again.

"I'm really excited about that. Especially for our kids. I can't imagine what we could do with that amount of money for our school," said Knudsen.

NIET will announce the 2022 grand prize winner on Wednesday, March 2 at its annual conference in Dallas, Texas. Best of luck Perry Township Schools!

TAKING IT DAY TO DAY

It has been a very long week. Many of you know that my canine therapy dog partner, Stuart, passed over the rainbow bridge last week. He also on occasion wrote an article in this newspaper. His final column was on the front page of last week's paper.

I e-mailed a copy of the article to several of my out-of-state friends and family. We also posted a copy on Facebook where Stuart has had a page for several years.

Melody Stevens, communications director for Beech Grove City Schools, notified the teaching and support staff about Stuart. She also provided a photo with Stuart's last column that was published on the front page of last week's edition showing a young boy reading a book to Stuart.

Lyn and I have received so many e-mails, responses, cards in the mail, flowers and personal visits from family and friends. We are totally overwhelmed.

I received several responses from Beech Grove students who were involved in the reading program with Stuart and myself. Stuart really enjoyed visiting the schools and having students spend time by reading a book to him. This program was designed to help students who have difficulty reading out-loud. Reading was enjoyable and really helped them.

We received a wonderful note from Carly Brooke. She is the young girl who lived with her family on Main Street in Beech Grove. She is a high school student and a professional singer. She and her family moved to Nashville, Tenn. to further her career. She has good Stuart memories.

A classmate of mine, John Talley, passed away exactly one day before Stuart. John and I were in the same schools from the first grade to high school graduation. I sent his wife, Nan a quick note and said that I was pretty sure that John and Stuart were becoming good friends.

Lyn and I have really tested the glands that provide our tears during sad times. I am going to start answering some of our messages in a day or two. I'm pretty sure it will take some time. I feel so honored to have had the opportunity to be Stuart's therapy partner and have enjoyed about 16 years with him.

When we were at the veterinarian's office, I was pretty sure that Stuart knew what was going to take place. He spent time placing his head on Lyn's leg first and then mine. He did that three or four times. He then walked to the door that the doctor was going to enter. I'm thinking that he was ready.

Thanks again for all your support. Lyn and I so appreciate all your notes, calls and love. We are still operating day to day.....

I-69 earthwork, footings can be seen in Perry Township

By Al Stilley
Editor

Motorists traveling Ind. 37 in Johnson County and Perry Township of Marion County will continue to see development of the final phase of I-69 until the end of 2024.

Called the I-69 Finish Line, the final touches on the 26-mile section from Martinsville to I-465 on the Southside will take two years.

Along Ind. 37 in Perry Township, motorists can see crews relocating utilities and the first phase of ground work for interchanges and footings for overpasses. Work already has begun on the bridge at Southport Road.

Work also has begun on the Ind. 37 footprint near I-465 and Epler Avenue. Nearby Belmont Avenue will be realigned and Edgewood Avenue will be closed. There will be a new Epler Avenue bridge over I-69.

A new I-465 and I-69 interchange is to be built between Ind. 37 and White River. Earthwork and relocation of utility lines is under way at that site. Eventually I-465 will be widened between I-65 and I-70 from existing six lanes to eight lanes. Motorists on I-465 will see replacement of bridges over Keystone and Mann roads and Madison and Mooresville Bypass roads.

Completion of a new access road on the west side of Ind. 37 will connect Wicker Road in Marion County to Ind. 144 in Johnson County.

In Johnson County, upgrades of nearly six miles are under way for the new interstate and local access roads. When completed later this year, access roads west of the future I-69 will extend from Wicker Road to State Road 144.

Crews spent most of last year completing temporary paving along Ind. 37, which allows traffic to share one side of the road north of S.R. 144. During construction of the new I-69 pavement and bridges, traffic on the highway will remain open to four lanes, two in each direction, with nighttime and off-peak lane closures.

Construction continues on interchanges at Ind. 144, Smith Valley Road. The Fairview Road and Banta Road traffic signals will remain operational during construction of nearby interchanges to provide local access to Ind. 37.

I-69 opened through Martinsville late last year with a ribbon-cutting ceremony with Gov. Eric Holcomb. Motorists on Ind. 37 in northern Morgan County will see a speed limit of 45 miles per hour for the final layer of asphalt, permanent striping, signage, railings, grass plantings, and drainage work.

PAID OBITUARY

JACQUELINE (JACKIE) LOUISE HOWELL passed away Thursday Feb. 17, 2022 surrounded by her four kids Jennifer, Steve, Brad and Loryn and her husband of 40 years, John. She was preceded in death by her father Floyd Harold Denning, and her mother Margaret Ruth Denning (Puckett). She is survived by her husband, children, and their spouses, Mike Tinder, Rohini Howell, Carly Howell and William Blunt; five grandchildren; brother Otis Denning (Jean); sisters Libby Mote, Peggy Needham, and Mary Larrison. She was born December 11, 1960 at St. Francis Hospital, Beech Grove, Indiana. Jackie was known for her deep love of family. She was a wife, mother, grandmother and sister.

More than that she was a fierce protector, friend, and someone who believed in you. She called her family to bring the best parts of themselves to the world. She was a healthcare professional for 38 years. From 2005 through 2021 she operated her own ultrasound business serving hospitals and healthcare centers in Indianapolis. Her professional life was dedicated to serving people. From families welcoming a child into the world, to helping others manage difficult diagnoses. Every patient was of value to her. She took great care to treat everyone with respect and love. It was her way of having an impact in these short moments. Jackie was deeply curious, which led her to researching her family line starting at the age of 16. She took a trip to Tennessee to trace back her family origin. She met with family members, found official records, and even went cemetery by cemetery to confirm the names of every person who lived and died before her time. Her ancestry was important to her in giving her direction of where she wanted to go with her life. Jackie's legacy will live on in her children who she loved and raised with her husband, John. She instilled in them a hunger for growth, an unyielding work ethic and a deep affection for their family. Her goal was to allow her kids the opportunity to experience life even more fully than she did. From sports, to education and the arts, Jackie prepared her children to be free-thinking people that valued family, friendship and sharing their lives with one another as the family expands. She was a teacher who made sure her kids knew how to compete, deal with losses and learn to win gracefully. She was a breast cancer survivor who advocated for women and men in difficult circumstances by providing clothing and food to the Wheeler Mission. She leaves behind her spouse and great love, John, who she met in 7th grade. At 15 years old she prayed that God would let him be her husband. And at 20 years old on August 28, 1981 they were married at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. They grew their family from two to six, and were married for 15,148 days - 40 years building a life together. To Jackie, celebration meant a great deal. Every birthday, anniversary, graduation, victory and wedding deserved a party. She knew that it mattered to mark the occasion with music, food and friends. Her love language was giving. When she gave to her family it compounded the deep love that lived in her heart which she gave in abundance. She brought a vibrancy to life that impacted anyone who was a part of it. While our hearts are broken, we're celebrating the life that Jackie lived and invite you to do the same.

Join us in celebrating her life with a memorial service on Friday, Feb. 25, 2022, 3-7 p.m., at Forest Lawn Memory Gardens & Funeral Home, 1977 S. State Road 135, Greenwood, IN 46143. Funeral service is Saturday, Feb. 26, 2022 at 11 a.m. Doors open at 10 a.m.

Boys basketball sectionals begin Tuesday with Hornets seeking fourth straight title

BG CLAIMS SEVENTH ICC CHAMPIONSHIP

Beech Grove's Hornets celebrate the program's seventh Indiana Crossroads Conference championship Friday after defeating Triton Central, 72-51. The Hornets are 13-6 and undefeated in league play after handing Triton Central its only league defeat.

(SOUTHSIDER VOICE PHOTO BY KEAGAN ROTHROCK) Roncalli's leading scorer Luke Keggerreis (11) looks for a way around Franklin Central's Airon Boyd (30) during a home game Saturday night at Roncalli. Keggerreis scored a team-high 15 points. Boyd came off the bench and scored seven points in the second half. The visiting Flashes won, 67-50.

The 112th annual IHSAA boys basketball tournament opens Tuesday, March 1, with eight of 10 Southside teams in action on opening night.

Only Perry Meridian and Lutheran drew byes and will play Friday, March 4.

The pairings were announced Sunday evening for 64 sectionals. Southside teams will be playing at Ben Davis, Greenwood, Lebanon, Speedway, and Lutheran. All sectional title games are Saturday, March 5.

Quality depth and consistency will be keys for any Southside team that emerges with a championship trophy. "The more depth you have, the harder you can play because you can play aggressive defense," Lutheran coach Remus Woods said. "We want to be full stride for sectionals. Playing unselfish and fast, that's our goal."

Franklin Central's depth has been off and on. "We can go nine-deep, but it has been hit and miss all season," veteran Franklin Central coach Criss Byers said Saturday after the Flashes downed host Roncalli, 76-60. "We have this week to fine-tune everything."

The team-by-team outlook:

Class 4A AT Ben Davis

Southport (11-11) - Time for Cards to put it all together ... junior trio of AJ Dancler, Nickens Lemba and Keyon Miller combined for 52 points Friday against Terre Haute South, snapping three-game losing skid ... meet Pike in Ben Davis Sectional opener, Red Devils won, 70-62 on Feb. 15 ... winner meets Perry Meridian on March 4.

Roncalli (7-13) - Coach Michael Wantz can't fault Royals energy or effort ... three-game losing skid ... inconsistency in backcourt and bench play ... 6-4 junior Luke Keggerreis (12.9 points, 4.6 rebounds) leads offense ... Royals hit only 16 of 29 free throws against FC ... meet favored Ben Davis (17-6) Tuesday with Decatur Central (12-9) awaiting winner on March 4.

Perry Meridian (7-13) - Falcons play Southport-Pike winner March 4 ... upset Southport in season opener, 34-30 ... average 43 points on offense and defense ... coach Mark James surpassed 600 career wins.

At Greenwood

Greenwood (8-12) - Woodmen meet FC Tuesday ... snapped seven-game losing skid Friday against Mooresville, 38-33 ... the Woodmen specialize in limiting foe's possessions ... only score 40.2 points per game.

Franklin Central (8-12) - Flashes showed solid depth Saturday against Roncalli ... effective backcourt trio of Rynell Echols, Lyna Brooks, Dhani Flannigan combined for 55 points against Royals ... play eighth-toughest season schedule ... defeated Greenwood, 49-43 Feb. 8.

Whiteland (14-8) - only team in field with winning record ... Johnson County tourney champs ... 6-2 against sectional foes.

Center Grove (10-10) - Trojans meet Shelbyville-Franklin winner on March 4 ... play two regular season games this week ... slight favorite due to strength of schedule.

Class 3A At Speedway

Beech Grove (13-6) - Favorites for fourth straight sectional trophy ... won six of last seven games ... half of schedule against 4A teams ... newly crowned Indiana Crossroads champs ... open Speedway Sectional against Herron (9-11) Tuesday.

At Lebanon

Christal House Manual (10-9) - First-year combo of two merged schools ... riding three-game win streak (84.3 points) ... only faced five 3A/4A teams ... also play two regular season games this week.

Class A At Lutheran

Greenwood Christian (15-9) - Easy path against winless Providence Cristo Rey Tuesday ... would face Victory Prep (1-19) March 4 ... seven-game win streak ... led by soph shooting guard Max Booher.

Lutheran (14-5) - Face Central Christian (14-8) Tuesday; Saints won 51-39, Jan. 8 ... winner meets favored Tindley (15-7), 7-4 vs. 3A/4A teams, March 4 ... Saints have deepest team in field.

Good luck to all teams!

State wrestling

Meridian regional. "He's a good wrestler, and I was slow to get my offense going."

The good news for Billerman is he's a junior.

He smiled, saying, "I'll be back."

Coming back

Two wrestlers bounced back from crushing setbacks to capture third-place matches.

Southport senior Nathan Smith, whose undefeated run was stopped 6-0 by Brownsburg freshman Jake Hockaday in Saturday's semi, rebounded to win his third-place match. Smith (50-1) controlled Peru sophomore Jalen May to record an 8-2 decision.

At 195, Franklin Central's Aataevon Jordan capped a 33-2 senior season by stopping Chesterton senior Gage DeMarco 5-2 and happily celebrated with his coaches after earning his third-place medal.

Finishing fourth was Roncalli senior Kody Glithero (40-1) at 152. Earning fifth place by winning his last match was Roncalli junior Bryce Lowery (40-1) at 138.

Center Grove sophomore Wyatt Krejsa made a strong comeback at 132 pounds. After winning his opening match, he fell to Crown Point junior Anthony Bahl in Saturday's quarterfinal round. He then dominated Mishawaka senior Eleazar Walker 7-0 to finish fifth.

At 182, Roncalli junior Luke Hanson (36-4) came back to take seventh. Whiteland junior Joey Buttler, was state runnerup at 126.

Also qualifying

Those who qualified for state but did not advance past Friday's round were Center Grove freshman Eddie Goss (31-13) at 106, Roncalli sophomore Braden Getz (19-2) at 113, CG senior Michael Tharpe (29-13) and PM junior Keaton Morton (31-8) at 126, PM sophomore Zach Huckaby (28-12) and PM junior Ronin Hammond (24-12) at 195, CG junior Royce Deckard III (34-8) and Roncalli senior Justin Lewis (31-10) at 220, and CG sophomore Nate Johnson (29-7) at 285.
