Greenwood's Nuhfer overcomes obstacle to swim in college

Grace Nuhfer has swam with the Greenwood Gators from the beginning, and has also had an impressive four-year career at Greenwood High School.

By Cody Kluge bvmsports.com

reenwood High School senior Grace Nuhfer first entered the pool at age 7, and she hasn't slowed down since.

Now, her impressive ability will take her all the way to a collegiate swimming career with the University of Akron.

However, her journey to becoming a college athlete has been a bit different than most. When she was around 3 years old, Nuhfer – along with her younger sister - was diagnosed with brittle cornea syndrome, a rare genetic disease involving the connective tissue in the eyes As a result of the syndrome, the Greenwood student-athlete is legally blind.

"It's really rare and the fact that both my sister and I have it is really crazy," Nuhfer said. "We definitely grew through it and you can't take the little things for granted. We have to make sure we're enjoying life even if our lives aren't the same as everyone

Although Nuhfer can't do certain things such as drive or play sports that involve a ball or racquet, she has never known anything different, and hasn't let the syndrome affect her.

"I don't know any different, so a lot of people will look at it and think that it's special that I've been able to achieve all these athletic accomplishments even though I can't see very well," Nuhfer said. "I think it's cool, but for me, it's not too special. I'm training hard like everyone else and working hard in and out of the water like everyone else.'

With her options limited when she was younger, swimming came to the forefront as one of the top sports that she could compete in.

She began swimming locally with the Greenwood Gators in the 50- and 100-butterfly, and she never turned back.

The 18-year-old has been with the Gators for 11 years, but competing at the high school level was an adjustment as a freshman. She reached the IHSAA State finals unexpectedly as a sophomore. One year later, she was fifth in the 50-yard butterfly at sectionals and 12th in the 100-butterfly at state.

Southsider Voice advertisers, (All American Lawns) and (Beck Service Center), advanced to the Final Four as No. 1 seed Baylor and No. 2 Houston, respectively escaped the Elite Eight Monday night in the NCAA men's basketball championship.

Tuesday night (too late for deadline), No. 1 seed Gonzaga (Duane Lytle Landscaping) squared off against underdog No. 6 Southern California (Shelby Upholstering) and No. 1 Michigan (Sleepy Hollow Pet Ranch) faced upstart No. 11 UCLA (IU Credit Union) to see which teams move on to the Final Four.

Michigan, representing the Big 10 that originally had nine entries, remains as the only team east of the Mississippi River in this year's unprecedented and somewhat unpredictable tourney.

The Final Four unfolds Saturday at Lucas Oil Stadium with the first of two games at 5 p.m. and the 2021 championship game, Monday at 5 p.m. All games are on the CBS network and at one site after being on multiple networks and at several sites in Indianapolis and Purdue and Indiana universities.

FIRST GAME SATURDAY AT BG'S FIELD OF DREAMS

Beech Grove High School's varsity baseball team opens its season Saturday against Perry Meridian with the dedication and first pitch at the Jim Hensley Field of Dreams, the Hornets first on-campus baseball field. The Hornets had played for several years at Sarah T. Bolton Park. The artificial turf field will be named in honor of the late James R. Hensley, who passed away Feb. 17, 2011. He also was a founding member of the Beech Grove Education Foundation. Ceremonies begin at 9:30 a.m. Saturday with the first pitch by the Hensley family. Game time is 10 a.m The field was made possible by voter approval of a recent referendum, that also enhanced academic facilities.

AN INTERESTING WEEK

Last week was very interesting due to three happenings.

Katie Gearlds

The main subject of a big sports story concerned a young lady that I first met when she was a student at Beech Grove High School. Katie Gearlds became the best girls' player ever at the school and the best in Indiana in 2003.

After high school, she studied at Purdue and continued playing basketball as her skills always improved. She then played professional basketball for a few years with the Seattle WNBA team, and then played overseas.

I enjoyed watching her play. It was also fun to connect with her when she was back home in Beech Grove. We mostly passed each other on the streets as I was driving the school bus and she would be driving her bright yellow Mustang. We would laugh and wave Katie served as the women's basketball coach at Marian University for several years, winning two NAIA national championships. It was announced late last week that Katie will be the next head coach at Purdue University. She will be associate coach next season with coach Sharon Bersyp who is to retire after the 2021-2022 season I think that it is so cool for them to be able to work together and have a

My old house, the Longacre Bar

I began receiving cellphone calls from friends informing me that my "old house," the Longacre Bar and Grill, was on fire. Stuart and I jumped into our car and drove up to see what was going on

It was a bit scary. We pulled up and found a safe place to park; the entire parking lot and street were filled with fire trucks. I quickly found out that an electrical fire in the basement had been contained. The business is undergoing an ownership change and quite a bit of remodeling and maintenance was going on.

I was told that it might be a few months before the bar and grill may be able to reopen. Lots of work needs to be done. It was sad for me to look inside the front door and see a hole chopped into the floor. The firemen needed to do that to get a water hose to the basement.

Visiting our friend Christi

I'm very happy to say that Stuart and I made our first visit inside a nursing facility in more than a year due to Covid-19 restrictions. With lesser rules, we were invited to visit Manor Care Health Services where a lady, Christi, resides and is known as Stuart's girlfriend.

This visit, we met with Christi and her mother, Pam, in a large family room. Stuart sat on my lap and we sat close to Christi. It was so special to see their reaction to reconnecting with each other.

We were allowed to visit for about 15 minutes. Due to Covid-19, the only way we could see each other before was through her room window. This visit was much better.

Always at the end of each of our visits before, I would try to have a stern look and then I would tell Christi to behave. She would always say, "No!" That happened again last week.

She also demanded that we arm wrestle. Over the years, we have done that many times but it was always my idea. This time it was her idea. The results of the battle were exactly the same. She always wins. Stuart and I both so very much enjoyed our visit and we hope that it will happen again real soon. Thanks to Christi, Pam, and the Manor may be over, but she left some impressive marks. The swimming standout is part of seven school records, including three relays, and the 200, 100, and 50 freestyles as well as the 100-butterfly.

We are the team that completely rewrote the records which is crazy," Nuhfer emphasized. "I'm definitely proud of myself for all those accomplishments but I know that without a strong support system behind me, none of that would have been possible. As much as swimming is an individual sport, it's definitely a sport that needs to be done together and I'm grateful for everyone that has been a part of my swimming career."

Part of that support system comes from Nuhfer's mom, Tami, who has been an assistant coach on the team. Her dad, Adam, played tennis on some of Greenwood's better teams and was the P.A. announcer for Greenwood High School's boys' basketball games while in school. Grace's sister was on the swim team this season. Nuhfer's mom, a former track and field athlete at Purdue University, helped Grace's athletic growth. "My mom was a crazy good athlete," Nuhfer said. "She learned so much being a college athlete and her experiences have definitely helped me know what I'm looking for in a college.

Ever since she began swimming, Nuhfer knew she wanted to swim in college at the NCAA Division 1 level. Now, that dream is about to become a reality

"Everything I had been looking for in a program was at Akron," Nuhfer said. "Akron was a lot closer to home for me but just the team atmosphere was that family feel that I had with my club; I'm confident that will be the same if not better there. I'm looking forward to having a team of girls that will just help one another be the best versions of ourselves." Nuhfer hopes to make an immediate impact at Akron and help the team with hopes of competing at the NCAA championships.

Academically, Nuhfer will follow in the footsteps of her parents and study business at Akron with an emphasis on marketing. She already has started a couple of her own entities through the years, including a photography business

Regardless of where her future takes her, Nuhfer has already defied the odds with a truly impressive swimming career. She's left a legacy at GHS, and her story can only get better at Akron.

BG's Katie Gearlds going home to Purdue

By Al Stilley

"Honestly, it just feels like I am coming home.

With those words, Katie Gearlds beamed about being named as associate back on the national scene. It's going to be a fun ride."

- Associate head coach Katie Gearlds

"I am completely jacked for the opportunity to help get Purdue

women's basketball coach at Purdue University. The Beech Grove

native joins head coach Sharon Versyp in her final season and then will be her successor beginning with the 2022-2023 campaign.

Sharing in the announcement with coach Versyp, Gearlds stated, "I am thoroughly excited for the opportunity to help put Purdue back on the national scene. I believe we will accomplish great things in the years ahead, and am looking forward to being a part of the next chapter in Purdue women's basketball history."

Gearlds returns to Purdue where she starred as a third-team All-American and helped lead the Boilermakers to four consecutive NCAA tournament appearances (2004-2007), capped by reaching the Elite

An opportunity that she could not pass up, Gearlds added, "Purdue is the next step for me, and it's a step I feel like I was born to take...it's Purdue University is one of three homes for Gearlds. Her first home is Beech Grove, where she was born. She shot hoops in her parents' driveway, played youth, amateur, middle school, and high school basketball, turning down invitations to play for a championship. The march featured an unforgettable double-overtime semistate win against North Harrison when she hit three straight free throws with no time on the clock in the fourth quarter to push it into overtime at the Southport Fieldhouse. She was Indiana's Miss Basketball in 2003 as well as Gatorade Indiana Player of the Year and a Nike/WBCA All-American. Gearlds ranks No. 6 in all-time Indiana girls' career points, capped by her senior year average of 30.1 points per game, 9.4 rebounds, 5.4 assists, and 5.1 steals per game. She also was a Nike/WBCA All-American and the Gatorade Indiana Player of the Year.

During an interview last week, she acknowledged her family and longtime friends who have always "had my back."

Of course, Purdue University is her second home where she played for coach Versyp in her first year at the Boilermaker helm. Gearlds hit new heights her senior year, scoring a record 41 points against Wisconsin and tying the single-season record of 707 points.

She is fourth in all-time points scored at Purdue with 1.974. The Boilermakers also won two Big Ten Tourney championships with Gearlds. She was the 2004 Big Ten Freshman of the Year and four-time All-Big 10 selection.

During her pro career, she played for Seattle in the WNBA for three seasons and overseas before retiring as a player. Gearlds third home became Marian University, where she established a championship coaching pedigree. She just completed her eighth and final year at the helm by mentoring the Knights to a seventh NAIA tourney appearance in eight seasons. The Knights were national champions in 2016 and 2017. Gearlds' teams won 82 percent (228 wins, only 50 losses)

She is a three-time NAIA National Coach of the Year. The Knights also captured six consecutive Crossroads League season and four tourney championships. And she helped develop 12 NAIA All-American nominees, capped by the 2021 NAIA Player of the Year Imani Guy.

Gearlds will go full-bore into the transition with Versyp, whom she conferred with numerous times after graduating from Purdue. Such a transition is remindful of the men's basketball program when Matt Painter was named associate head coach during Gene Keady's final season in 2004-2005. This transition promises to be just as Versyp goes into their 16th and final season at the helm as Purdue's winningest women's basketball coach with 301 games won which she can add to next season. She had posted nine 20-plus win seasons.

"Katie was one of the hardest-working players I've ever had the good fortune to coach," Versyp said. "Her character and leadership embodied everything we wanted in a student-athlete to represent our program.'

Meanwhile, Gearlds is eager to make the transition from coaching an elite NAIA program to an NCAA Division 1 program in the ultra-competitive Big 10.

It promises to be as smooth as hitting those three straight free throws like she did in 2003 in the playoffs against North Harrison.

Speedrome opens Saturday with 75-lap Figure-8

By Al Stilley Editor

The Indianapolis Speedrome opens for its 80th season Saturday night with the Wayne Arnold Memorial Fast Start 75-lap Late Model Figure-8.

Racing begins at 7 p.m. with Factory FWDs, Faskarts, and Legends cars in 25-lap features on the one-fifth-mile paved oval. The track is at Brookville Road and Kitley Avenue.

Interest is high for the new season, especially after a year of health restrictions due to the Covid pandemic. Health protocols will be followed by fans and participants Saturday night.

"We will continue our rise from 2019 and what was anticipated for 2020 before Covid," track president Jonathan Byrd II added "Our fans. like evervone, have been pent-up and are ready for the excitement of the Figure-8.

Last year, owner Kevin Garrigus added amenities to the historic short track and this season the Speedrome expands its reach. The Speed Sport Network has a five-year marketing agreement with with the Speedrome for production, technology, business services, equipment support, and marketing for the full schedule. The pact also includes non-national touring series events at the expanded Circle City Raceway dirt track at the Marion County Fairgrounds.

"This is a great beginning, a partnership with media, podcasts, website and what we can do together to bring Figure-8 racing to the world," Byrd said Saturday. "They (Speed Sport) are excited about Figure-8 racing and we are among 'favorite nation' status with them. That's the really big thing coming this season.'

Byrd said that more details of broadcasts will be announced

The second-generation motorsports enthusiast also pointed out that interest is growing among all divisions.

Byrd emphasized that the Speedrome has great entertainment value for all sports fans throughout central Indiana.

"You can't have better pricing for any event in the city," Byrd said. "Our ticket prices are the lowest for any event in town, children are free, and parking is Racing is on Saturday nights with many special events: Demolition derbies; school-bus and trailer Figure-8s; winged 410 sprints; and $5,000 "Rumble for the Track Record," an Indiana shootout to set a track record on the oval; fireworks extravaganza; and World Figure-8 three-hour endurance race.

The Speedrome has been open for registration and practice for three consecutive Saturdays. The interest and turnout for all divisions has been impressive.

Southside drivers on hand for the third practice included Figure-8 drivers Mark Tunny and Mike Riddle Jr. of the Southside and Southport alum Larry Hahn, one of the track's top Stock class competitors.

"I have a new car and a new outlook," said Riddle, who began Figure-8 racing in 2012. "We didn't have a good year last year, so we need to get back to making the racing fun again.'

Tickets on opening night Saturday are $10, ages 13-64 years; $8 for seniors, military, and first responders. Kids 12-and-under free with an adult. There is special pricing for special events.
